At Magistrate Chandler's suggestion, Judge Barnes will investigate having an independent firm conduct an employee survey to try to determine reasons for high employee turnover in some county departments. Judge Barnes would like Fiscal Court to meet with the Franklin City Commission regarding Franklin Forward, a program seeking citizen input and guidance for the development of Franklin, and he believes Simpson County should be more informed and involved. He reported that the Scott Waste Amnesty Days collection this past weekend totaled 198 loads of trash and 57 loads of recyclables, and all went well. Judge Barnes's report continued as he encouraged fiscal court members to view an email which has the power point presentation from the BRADD training on "Open Meetings" that was recently attended by himself and staff, and he cautioned that violations of the Kentucky Open Records & Open Meetings Act can create problems for a governmental body. One of the points made during the training at the BRADD was that the standing committees of the magistrates should establish a regular schedule for the monthly meetings by resolution or by giving at least a 24-hour public notice before each meeting.
